To Whom It May Concern,

As a computer professional and an American citizen I believe the the antitrust action against Microsoft is unwarranted and unjust. For the record, I have chosen to use other operating systems (Linux, various flavors of Unix, Mac, and the OS400) instead of Microsoft's wherever possible. The consumers who have bought the Windows operating systems have done so of their own free will. To say that Microsoft has a monopoly is an opinion born out of ignorance and laziness. I do not like their products but I think it is unfair that the government helps their competitors by bringing this suit. It is anti-democratic, anti-freedom, and born of and supported by jealousy of companies who cannot run a business as well as the management of Microsoft.

Please bring this episode to a close by terminating the antitrust action against Microsoft immediately. Please stop wasting the taxpayers money. Please stop enriching trial lawyers at the expense of productive individuals and organizations. Please stop granting government favors to jealous business competitors. Please stop government actions which hamper the creative endeavors and job creating abilities of businesses everywhere.

Sincerely,
